

The University of Chicago Committee on Japanese Studies presents
The 2012 Tetsuo Najita Distinguished Lecture in Japanese Studies

A STRUCTURE OF DECEIT: The Japanese Nuclear Energy Program

Akio Igarashi, Political Scientist

October 10, 2012
4:30pm
International House
1414 E. 59th St.
Chicago, IL. 60637

Free and open to the public

Akio Igarashi is a political scientist and Professor Emeritus of law and politics at Rikkyo University. His recent publications include Japanese Politics (Nihon seiji ron), 2010 and When Women Change Politics: The Experiences of Representatives, Mayors, and Governors (Jyosei ga Seiji wo Kaeru Toki, with Miranda Schreurs), 2012.

Sponsored by the Center for East Asian Studies and International House Global Voices Program. For more information, or if you require assistance to participate in the event, call 773-702-2715 or visit the event website, <http://ceas.uchicago.edu>